“ Bob, Jerry, Randy & Mike - I was saddened when I learned of Uncle Nick's passing but I believe that he is beyond all suffering now and is in the care of a merciful God. It is surely a difficult time to lose a father so close to the holidays where he will be particularly missed.

My most vivid memories of Uncle Nick were at the holidays and family gatherings, bacon roasts and such. Conversations on these occasions were often punctuated by his firm declarations and observations about life, human nature, society, etc. and his word always seemed to be definitive about the matter. (I recall the time he grew the handlebar mustache and thought that was pretty cool back then)

I know he loved his family greatly and with age, a softer side of Uncle Nick emerged. Perhaps he had endured enough pain and loss in his life and was determined not to yield to bitterness. He apparently was a popular man on campus with his cohorts there in his Brookville community. My last visit with him earlier this year revealed a man of faith who despite his suffering, was thankful for what he did have and not resentful for what he didn't.

I pray that in your loss and sorrow, you will receive consolation and comfort as you recall the best that your father had to offer you in life and the love he most certainly had for you and all the family.

Grant unto him eternal rest O Lord, and may perpetual light shine upon him.

*With deep sympathy,
David & Jane Collinsworth and family*
